

CHAPTER 2 - THE SALE OF GOODS ACT, 1930

UNIT 1: FORMATION OF CONTRACT OF SALE

- INTRODUCTION :

- ❖ It came into force on the 1st of July, 1930.
- ❖ It is applicable to whole of India except Jammu & Kashmir.
- ❖ The Law relating to this statute was contained in the Chapter VII of the Indian Contract Act, 1872.
- ❖ Where the Sale of Goods Act is silent on any point, the general principles of the law of contract apply.

- CONTRACT OF SALE

The term 'contract of sale' is defined in Section 4 (1) of the Sale of Goods Act, as under :
 "A contract of sale of goods is a contract whereby the seller transfers or agrees to transfer the property in the goods to the buyer for a price. "

- DEFINITIONS

1. Buyer :

"Buyer means a person who buys or agrees to buy goods." [Sec. 2(1)]

2. Seller :

"Seller means person who sells or agrees to sell goods." [Sec. 2(13)]

3. Goods :

"Goods" means every kind of movable property other than actionable claims and money; and includes stocks and shares, growing crops, grass and things attached to or forming part of the land which are agreed to be severed before sale or under the contract of sale. [Sec. 2 (7)].

- ❖ An actionable claim is a claim to any debt. For example: a money debt, book debts, etc.
- ❖ Money here means legal tender of money, i.e. the recognised circulation in the country; but not old rare coins.
- ❖ Things attached to the earth are not movables, but trees, growing crops which can be easily severed from the earth before sale. Fruits, vegetables and flowers which can be separated from the trees, are included in 'goods'.
- ❖ Livestock i.e. cows, buffaloes, cats etc are 'goods'.
- ❖ Patents, copyrights, goodwill, trade-marks, are all considered goods which can be the subject matter of a contract.
- ❖ A ship has also been considered to come within the definition of the word "goods". Similarly water, gas and electricity are included in the definition, though some writers doubt if they can be classed among "goods".

- ❖ As per English law, “shares and stock” are not treated as “goods”.
- ❖ To conclude, everything movable is goods, except the following:-
 1. Money
 2. Actionable Claims
 3. Immovable assets
 4. Services
- ❖ Classification of Goods:

4. Price

- ✓ “Price’ means the money consideration for a sale of goods.” [Sec. 2 (10)].
- ✓ No sale can take place without a price.
- ✓ Therefore,
 - a. Exchange of goods for goods will not be considered as sale
 - b. Gift of goods will not be considered as sale
 - c. Exchange of goods for goods along with price will be considered as sale

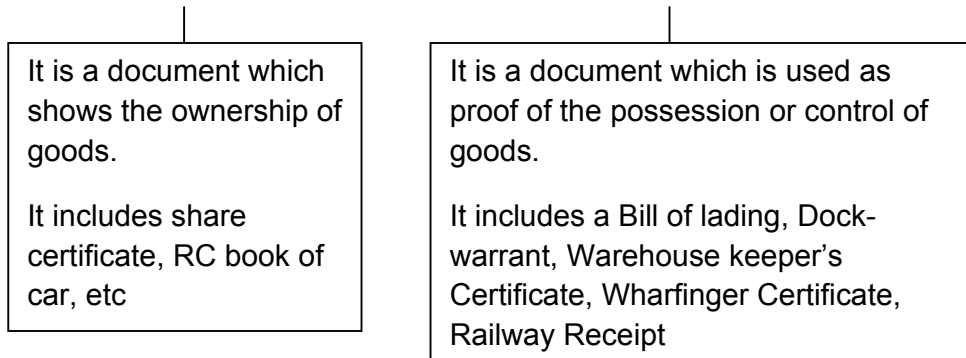

5. Property:

But in Sale Of Goods Act, 'property' means the general property in goods and not merely a special property

Example: A who owns the goods pledges them to B, then A has the general property in the goods, while B has a special property or interest in them.

6. Documents showing Title to Goods/ Documents of Title to Goods

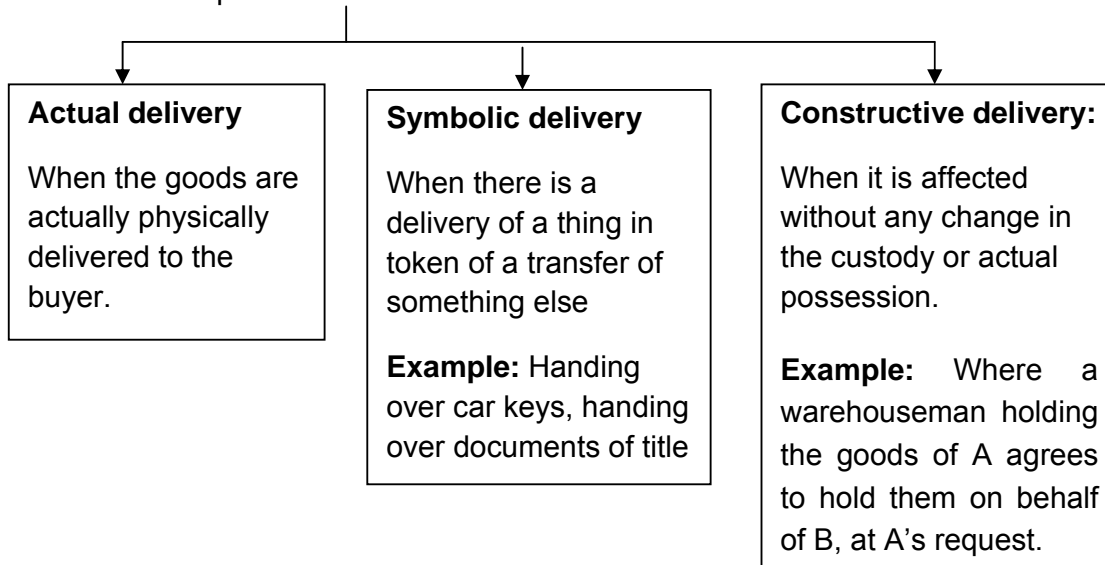

7. Mercantile Agent:

"Mercantile Agent" means an agent having in the customary course of business as such agent, authority either to sell goods, or to consign goods for the purpose of sale, or, to buy goods, or to raise money on the security of goods." [Section 2(9)]. If a person is not carrying on business as such agent, he would not fall under this definition. Thus, a contractor, a warehouseman, a carrier or a servant and a friend would be excluded.

8. Delivery:

"Delivery" means voluntary transfer of possession from one person to another" [Sec. 2 (2)]. Therefore, in case of theft, there is no delivery, though there is a transfer of possession.

• ESSENTIAL ELEMENTS OF A VALID CONTRACT OF SALE

Following are the essential elements of a valid contract of sale:

1. All the requirements of a valid contract must be fulfilled:

A contract of sale must fulfil all the requirements of a valid contract, e.g., free consent, consideration, competency of the parties, lawful object and consideration. If any of the essential elements of a valid contract is missing then the contract of sale will not be valid.

2. There must be two parties to the contract of sale:
There must be two parties, one seller and the other buyer. The reason for the same is that in a contract of sale, the ownership of the goods has to pass from one person to another.
3. There must be some goods as a subject-matter:
The 'goods' as defined in Section 2 (7) of the Sale of Goods Act.
4. The property in the goods must be transferred to the buyer:
The term 'property' in the goods means the ownership of the goods. In every contract of sale, the ownership of the goods must be transferred by the seller to the buyer, or there should be an agreement by the seller to transfer the ownership to the buyer. The term 'property' here means the general property, i.e., all ownership rights of the goods, and not merely a special property, i.e., limited rights such as right of a Pawnee.
5. There must be some price for the goods:
The goods must be sold for some price. The term 'price' is defined in Section 2 (10)
6. A contract of sale can be absolute or conditional [Section 4(2)].

• DISTINGUISH BETWEEN

1. SALE AND AGREEMENT TO SELL

SALE	AGREEMENT TO SELL
1.Transfer of property: the property in goods passes from the seller to the buyer immediately	1.Transfer of property: In agreement to sell, the ownership of the property will pass from the seller to the buyer at some future time or on fulfilment of some conditions.
2.Nature of contract: A sale is an executed contract	2.Nature of contract: An agreement to sell is an executory contract
3. Consequences of Breach by buyer : In a sale, if the buyer fails to pay for the goods, the seller can: a) Sue him for recovery of price b) Claim damages	3. Consequences of Breach by buyer : In an agreement to sell, the seller can only sue for damages for breach of contract
4. Consequences of Breach by seller : In a sale, if the seller defaults, i.e. commits a breach, the buyer can: 1. Claim delivery of the goods from third party 2. Sue for damages	4. Consequences of Breach by seller: In the case of an agreement to sell, if the seller commits a breach, the buyer can only claim damages.
5. Transfer of risk: In a sale, if the goods are destroyed, the loss falls on the buyer even though they are in the possession of the seller.	5. Transfer of risk: In an agreement to sell, if the goods are destroyed, the loss falls on the seller, even though they are in the possession of the buyer.

6. Subsequent destruction: A subsequent loss or destruction of the goods is the liability of the buyer.	6. Subsequent destruction: Such loss or destruction is the liability of the seller.

2. SALE AND HIRE- PURCHASE

SALE	HIRE-PURCHASE
1. Property in the goods is transferred to the buyer immediately at the time of Contract.	1. The property in goods passes to the hirer upon payment of the last instalment.
2. The position of the buyer is that of an Owner of the goods.	2. The position of the hirer is that of a bailee till he pays the last instalment.
3. The buyer cannot terminate the contract and is bound to pay the price of the goods.	3. The hirer may, if he so likes, terminate the contract by returning the goods to its owner without any liability to pay the remaining instalments.
4. The seller takes the risk of any loss resulting from the insolvency of the buyer.	4. The owner takes no such risk, for if the hirer fails to pay an instalment the owner has right to take back the goods.
5. The buyer can resell the goods.	5. The hirer cannot resell the goods till the last instalment.
6. Tax is levied at the time of the contract.	6. Tax is not leviable until it eventually ripens into a sale.

3. SALE AND BAILMENT

SALE	BAILMENT
1.The property in goods is transferred from the seller to the buyer.	1. There is only transfer of possession of goods from the bailor to the bailee for any of the reasons like safe custody, carriage,etc.
2. The return of goods in contract of sale is not possible.	2. The bailee must return the goods to the bailor on the accomplishment of the purpose for which the bailment was made.
3. The consideration is the price in terms of money.	3. The consideration may be gratuitous or non-gratuitous.

- BARTER AND EXCHANGE

Barter:

Where goods are transferred for goods, the transaction is one of a ‘barter’ and not sale, i.e. wheat is given in exchange of rice.

Exchange :

Where money is exchanged for money, the transaction is one of ‘exchange’ and not sale, i.e. 100 rupee note is exchanged for 2 notes of Rs. 50.

• SALE AND CONTRACT FOR WORK AND LABOUR

A contract of sale has to be distinguished from a contract for work and labour. The contract of sale contemplates the delivery of goods, whereas in contract for work and labour or materials, the contract is for the exercise of the skill and labour, and delivery of goods is only subsidiary.

Example:G commissioned R, an artist to paint a portrait and supplied the canvas and the paint. Held, it is a contract for work and labour and not one for the sale of goods.

• FORMATION AND MODES OF A CONTRACT OF SALE

A contract of sale is made by an offer to buy or sell by one person, and the acceptance of such offer by another person. And it may be made in anyone of the following modes [Section 5 (1)]:

1. There may be immediate delivery of goods, but the price to be paid at some future date.
2. There may be immediate payment of price, but the delivery to be made at some future date.
3. There may be immediate payment of price and the immediate delivery of goods.
4. The price and delivery of the goods may be postponed.
5. The price and delivery of the goods may be agreed to be made in instalments.

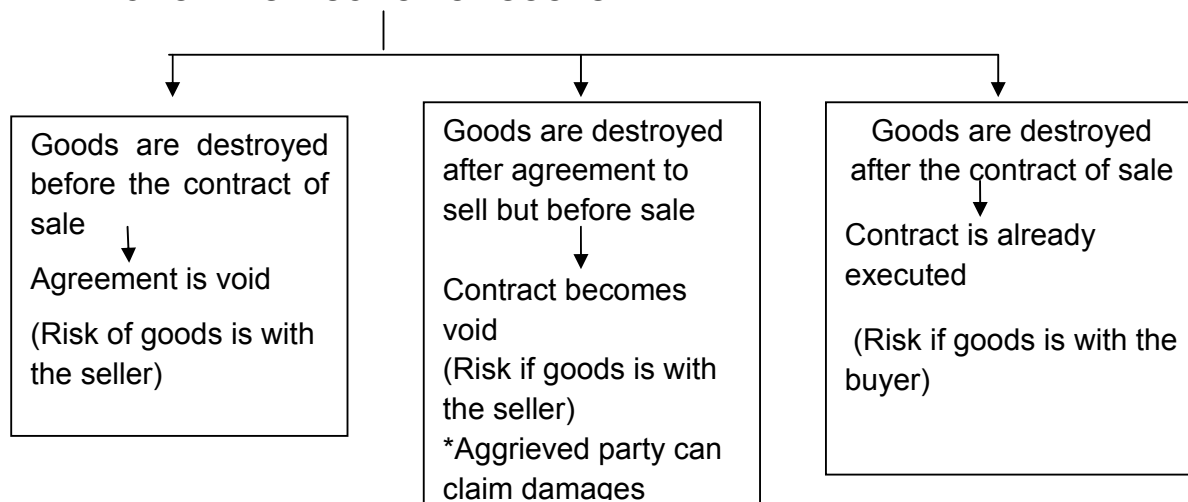

✓ It may be noted that no particular form is necessary for the making of a contract of sale.

✓ It may be in any form, e.g., a contract of sale may be made

- (a) In writing, or
- (b) By words of mouth, or
- (c) Partly in writing and partly by words of mouth, or
- (d) May be implied from the conduct of the parties.

However, if any particular mode is prescribed by any law, then the contract of sale must be made in that particular mode [Section 5 (2)].

• EFFECT OF DESTRUCTION OF GOODS

- PRICE AND MODES OF FIXING THE PRICE

The price means the money consideration for the sale of goods [Section 2 (10)]. Price may be fixed in any of the following modes provided in Section 9:

1. The fixation of price by the contract of sale [Section 9 (1)]:

The price may be expressly fixed the contract of sale. The parties may fix any price they like.

2. The fixation of price in a manner provided in the contract of sale [Section 9 (1)]:

The contract of sale may provide for some manner in which 'price is to, be fixed. In such cases, the price may be fixed in a manner provided in the contract.

3. The fixation of price by course of dealings [Section 9 (1)]:

Sometimes, the customs or usage of trade provides certain principles for the determination of the price. In such cases, the price may be determined from the course of dealings between the parties.

4. The fixation of a reasonable price [Section 9 (2)]:

Sometimes, none of the above principles is applicable. In such cases, the buyer shall pay to the seller a reasonable price. The term 'reasonable' price is a question of fact which depends on the circumstances of each particular case.

5. The fixation of price by third party [Section 10]:

✓ The parties may agree to sell and buy goods on the terms that the price shall be fixed by the valuation of a third party.

✓ However, if such third party fails to make the valuation, the contract becomes void. But if the buyer has received the goods and has appropriated them, he becomes bound to pay reasonable price to the seller.

✓ Sometime, the third party is influenced or prevented by the buyer or the seller from fixing the price. In such cases, the innocent party may recover damages from the defaulting party.

Example:

A agreed to sell his 100 bags of rice to B at a price to be fixed by C. But C failed to fix the price. In this case, the agreement becomes void on C's failure to fix the price.

Example:

A agreed to sell his 100 quintals of wheat to B at a price to be fixed by C. C is willing to value wheat and fix the price. But, A by his wrongful acts, prevents C from making the valuation of the goods. In this case, B can claim damages from A.

UNIT 2: CONDITIONS AND WARRANTIES

• INTRODUCTION :

In every contract of sale of goods there are certain stipulations made with reference to goods which are the subject-matter thereof. Such stipulations differ in character and importance. The clause divides stipulations into conditions and warranties.

Condition:

“A condition is a stipulation essential to the main purpose of the contract, that breach of which gives a right to treat the contract as repudiated.”

Warranty:

“A warranty is a stipulation collateral to the main purpose of the contract, the breach of which gives rise to a claim for damages but not a right to reject the goods and treat the contract as repudiated”.

CONDITION	WARRANTY
1.A condition is essential to the main purpose of the contract.	1. It is only collateral to the main purpose of the contract.
2. In case of breach of condition, aggrieved party can: i. Rescind the contract, return the goods and claim refund. ii. Claim damages	2. In case of breach of warranty, aggrieved party can only claim damages.
3. A breach of condition may be treated as a breach of warranty	3. A breach of warranty cannot be treated as a breach of condition.
4. Example:	4. Example:

• WHEN A CONDITION CAN BE TREATED AS A WARRANTY :

1. Voluntary waiver of condition:

Where a contract of sale is subject to any condition to be fulfilled by the seller, the buyer may waive the condition or elect to treat the breach of the condition as a breach of warranty and not as a ground for treating the contract as repudiated.

2. Where the buyer elects to treat the breach of the conditions, as one of a warranty. That is to say, he may claim only damages instead of repudiating the contract

3. Compulsory waiver of a condition:

Where a contract of a sale is not severable and the buyer has accepted the goods or part thereof, the breach of any condition to be fulfilled by the seller can only be treated as a breach of warranty and not as a ground for rejecting the goods and treating the contract as repudiated, unless there is a terms of the contract, express or implied, to that effect

Example:

B agrees to buy from A 20 bales of cotton by sample. The cotton is delivered to B who makes payment of its price. B upon examination of cotton finds them not equal to sample but uses 2 bales and sells 3. At this point he cannot rescind the contract and recover the price. But A is bound to compensate for the loss caused to B by breach of warranty.

4. Impossibility:

Nothing in this section shall affect the case of any condition or warranty, fulfilment of which is excused by reason of impossibility or otherwise.

• CONDITIONS :

Express conditions: Express conditions are those, which are agreed upon between the parties at the time of contract and are expressly provided in the contract.

Implied Conditions:

- ✓ It is a condition, which the law implies into the contract of sale. The law presumes that the parties have incorporated it into their contract.
- ✓ The implied conditions are read into every contract of sale unless they are expressly excluded by the parties.
- ✓ In case of conflict between the express and implied conditions, the express term shall prevail and the implied terms shall not be considered.
- ✓ Following are the implied conditions which are contained in the Sale of Goods Act :

1. Conditions as to title:

- ❖ According to this condition, it is presumed that the seller has a valid title to the goods, i.e., he has the right to sell the goods. If later on, the buyer comes to know that the seller had no valid right to sell the goods, then he may reject the goods and claim the refund of the price, if already paid.
- ❖ This implied condition may be analysed as under:
 - (i) In case of sale, the implied condition is that the seller has the right to sell the goods, and
 - (ii) In case of an agreement to sell, the implied condition is that the seller will have the right to sell the goods at the time when the ownership is to pass from the seller to the buyer.
- ❖ Example:

2. Condition as to description:

- ❖ Sometimes, the goods are sold by description. In such cases, the implied condition is that the goods shall correspond with the description.
- ❖ The term 'correspondence with description' means that the goods purchased by the buyer must be the same which were described by the seller.
- ❖ If subsequently, it is discovered that the goods do not correspond with the description, the buyer may reject the goods and claim the refund of the price, if already paid.
- ❖ Example:

3. Condition as to sample:

- ❖ In case of sale of goods by showing the sample to the buyer, there are following three implied conditions,
 - (i) That the goods delivered shall correspond with the quality of the sample
 - (ii) That the buyer shall have a reasonable opportunity of comparing the bulk with the sample.
 - (iii) That the goods shall be free from latent defects (i.e., the defects which are not discoverable on reasonable examination of sample)

4. Condition as to sample as well as description:

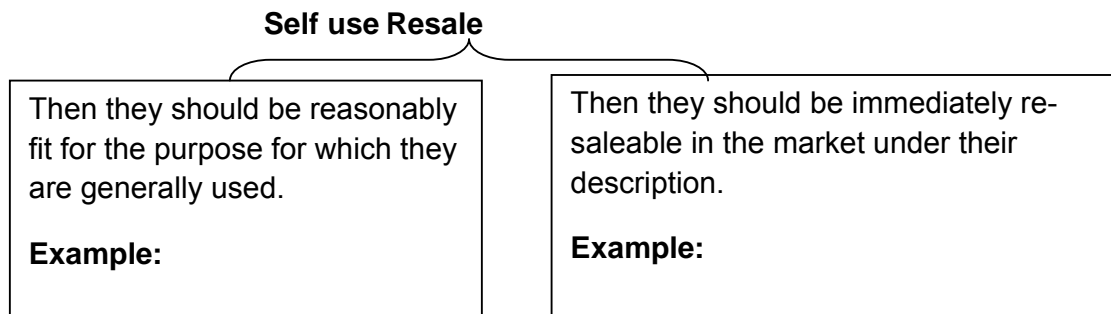

- ❖ Sometimes, the seller shows sample of the goods to the buyer and also gives him their description. In such cases, the implied condition is that the goods shall correspond with both, the sample as well as description.

5. Condition as to quality or fitness for buyer's purpose:

- ❖ Ordinarily, there is no implied condition that the goods shall be fit for the particular purpose of the buyer.
- ❖ Buyer is not responsible
 - (i) To know the particular purpose of buyer.
 - (ii) If buyer chooses the goods negligently.
- ❖ However in following exceptions, there is an implied condition that the goods shall be fit for the buyer's specific purpose. In following cases seller is responsible to the buyer:
 - (i) If the buyer makes his purpose clear to the seller.
 - (ii) If the buyer buys the goods 'relying upon his skill and judgment'.
- ❖ Example:

6. Condition as to merchantability:

The term 'merchantability' has not been defined in the Sale of Goods Act. However, it has been interpreted by the courts, and basically it means the two things, namely: If goods are purchased for

7. Condition as to wholesomeness:

This condition is a part of the condition as to merchantability. It is applicable in cases of eatables, i.e., foodstuffs and other goods which are used for human consumption. As per this condition, goods sold must be fit for human consumption.

Example:

• WARRANTIES :

Implied Warranties:

- ✓ It is a warranty, which the law implies into the contract of sale. The law presumes that the parties have incorporated it into their contract.
- ✓ The implied warranties are read into every contract of sale unless they are expressly excluded by the parties.
- ✓ In case of conflict between the express and implied warranties, the express term shall prevail and the implied terms shall not be considered.
- ✓ Following are the implied warranties which are contained in the Sale of Goods Act :
 1. Warranty as to quiet possession:
 - ❖ Where the buyer has obtained the possession of the goods, he has a right to enjoy them in a way he likes, i.e., no one should interfere with the quiet enjoyment of the buyer.
 - ❖ If buyer's right of possession and enjoyment is disturbed by anyone, then the buyer can recover damages from the seller.
 - ❖ Example:

2. Warranty as to free from encumbrance:

- ❖ In every contract of sale there is an implied warranty that the goods sold shall be free from any charge.
- ❖ If the possession of the buyer is disturbed due to such charge in favour of third party, he can claim damages from the seller.
- ❖ Example:

3. Disclosure of dangerous nature of goods:

- ❖ There is another implied warranty on the part of the seller that in case the goods are inherently dangerous or they are likely to be dangerous to the buyer and the buyer is ignorant of the danger, the seller must warn the buyer of the probable danger.
- ❖ If there is breach of this warranty, the seller will be liable in damages.

4. Warranties implied by customs:

- ❖ Like implied conditions, implied warranties are also attached by custom or usage of trade. This is so because the parties enter into an agreement subject to the known customs or usages of trade.

• THE DOCTRINE OF CAVEAT EMPTOR(BUYER BEWARE) :

- ❖ 'Caveat Emptor' is a Latin expression which means "let the buyer beware".
- ❖ The Doctrine states generally seller is not responsible for bad goods.
- ❖ This Doctrine takes the side of the seller.
- ❖ As per the ruler, seller is not responsible in following cases:-
 - (i) To know the particular purpose of buyer.
 - (ii) If buyer chooses the goods negligently
 - (iii) If the goods are defective and the defect is patent (i.e. defect which can be discovered by mere inspection)

❖ Exceptions : The exceptions to the doctrine of Caveat Emptor; which are mentioned below (i.e in the following seller is responsible) :

1. Where the buyer specifies the particular purpose for which the goods are required to the seller.
2. Where buyer relies on the seller's skill or judgment.
3. Where there is contract of sale by sample, the rule of caveat emptor will not apply if the goods do not correspond with sample
4. Where goods are bought by description, the goods shall correspond with the description.
5. If the goods are bought both by sample as well as by description this rule will not apply if goods do not correspond with both sample and description.
6. There is an implied condition that the goods shall be of merchantable quality
7. When the seller actively conceals some defect in the goods so that the same could not be discovered by the buyer on a reasonable examination, then the rule of Caveat Emptor will not apply.
8. When the goods are purchased under some brand name.

UNIT 3: TRANSFER OF OWNERSHIP AND DELIVERY OF GOODS

- TRANSFER OF PROPERTY (OWNERSHIP) :

- A. Meaning:

- ❖ The term 'property in the goods' may be defined as the legal ownership of the goods.
- ❖ Transfer of Ownership means transfer of Risk, Rights and Returns pertaining to the goods.
- ❖ The term 'property in the goods' must be distinguished from the term 'possession of the goods'. The term 'property in the goods' means the ownership' of the goods, whereas the term 'possession of goods' simply means the custody or physical control over the goods.

- B. Rules:

1. The ownership is transferred at the time of making the contract if the following conditions' are fulfilled:
 - (a) The sale must be of specific goods:
These are the goods which are identified and agreed upon at the time of contract.
 - (b) The goods must be in a deliverable state:
The goods are said to be in a deliverable state when they are in such a state that the buyer would, under the contract, be bound to take delivery of them.
 - (c) The contract of sale must be unconditional:
A contract is unconditional in which no condition is imposed regarding the transfer of ownership of the goods.
2. Transfer of ownership in case of sale of unascertained goods.
The unascertained goods are the goods which are not specifically identified at the time of making the contract of sale.
In case of sale of unascertained goods, the ownership is transferred to the buyer on the fulfilment of both the following conditions:
 - (i) Ascertainment of goods:
It is the process by which the goods to be delivered under the contract are identified and set apart. It is a unilateral act of the seller alone to identify and set apart the goods.
 - (ii) Appropriation of goods:
It is the process by which the goods to be delivered under the contract are identified and set apart with the mutual consent of the seller as well as buyer. It is a bilateral act of the seller and the buyer to identify and set apart the goods.

Example:

3. Where the specific goods are to be put in a deliverable state by the seller: The ownership is transferred as soon as the seller has put the goods in a deliverable state and the buyer comes to know about the act of the seller.
4. Where the specific goods in a deliverable state are to be weighed or measured by the seller to ascertain the price, the ownership is transferred to the buyer as soon as the seller has done the act of ascertaining the price and the buyer comes to know about this act of the seller.

Example:

5. However, parties may decide to pass the ownership as per the contract.
6. Transfer of ownership in case of sale on approval
 - ❖ The ownership of goods is with seller and the possession of goods is with buyer
 - ❖ The buyer has an option to return the goods.
 - ❖ The ownership is transferred to the buyer in any of the following three ways:
 - (i) When the buyer accepts the goods:
The acceptance by the buyer may be express or implied.
 - (ii) When the buyer adopts the transaction:
The buyer may adopt the goods by doing some act which shows that he has accepted the goods e.g., where he further sells or pledges the goods.
 - (iii) Where the buyer fails to return the goods within fixed or reasonable time
7. Reservation of right of disposal
 - ❖ The seller may like to retain the ownership of the goods until some later date, e.g., until the price is paid or some conditions are fulfilled. The seller may do so by reserving his right of disposal.
 - ❖ Where the seller has reserved his right of disposal, the ownership of the goods is not transferred to the buyer even if the goods are delivered to the buyer or some carrier for the purpose of transmission to the buyer. The ownership is transferred to the buyer only when the conditions imposed by the seller are fulfilled

- ❖ In the following two circumstances the seller is presumed to have reserved the right of disposal :
 1. By taking the documents showing title in his own name or his agent's name
 2. By sending the bill of exchange for the price, to the buyer, along with the documents of title
- ❖ Example:

8. Transfer of risk

- ❖ The risk and the ownership of the goods go together.
- ❖ In other words, the goods are at the risk of the party who has the ownership of the goods. This means that in case of loss of the goods, the loss shall be borne by the party who has the ownership of the goods at the time of loss.
- ❖ Exceptions:

In these exceptional circumstances, the goods may be at the risk of one party and their ownership may be with the other:

 1. Agreement between the parties:

The terms of agreement between the parties may provide as to when the ownership shall be transferred and who shall suffer the loss.
 2. Goods are at the risk of the party in default:

Sometimes, the delivery of the goods is delayed due to the fault of either seller or buyer. In such cases, the goods shall be at the risk of the party in default though their ownership is with the other party.
 3. Trade customs :

The risk and the ownership may also be separated by the trade customs e.g., the trade custom may provide that the goods shall be at the risk of the buyer whether or not the ownership has been transferred to him.

9. Transfer of title by non-owners

- ❖ "Nemo dat quod non-habet": This means that 'no one can transfer a better title than he himself has'. Thus, the buyer cannot get a better title than that of the seller. If the seller's own title is defective, the buyer's title will also be defective.
- ❖ Example:

❖ Exceptions:

In the following exceptional circumstances a non-owner can transfer a valid title to a bonafide buyer:

1) Sale by a mercantile agent

A 'mercantile agent' is an agent who deals in the buying and selling of the goods on behalf of his principal, e.g., an auctioneer. Where a mercantile agent sells goods in the ordinary course of his business, the buyer who buys in good faith, gets a valid title to the goods even if he (the mercantile agent) is not the owner of the goods.

2) Sale by a joint owner: When the joint owner is in the sole possession of the goods, and he sells them to a person who buys in a good faith, the buyer gets a valid title to the goods.Example:*3) Sale by estoppel: When the owner of goods, by his conduct or by statement, wilfully leads the buyer to believe that the seller has the authority to sell, then he is estopped (i.e., prevented) from denying the seller's authority to sellExample:*4) Sale by unpaid seller: To be done in Unit 45) Sale by a seller in possession of goods after their sale: If the seller continues to have the possession of the goods even after their sale and if he resells the same goods to a new buyer then in such cases, the second buyer gets a valid title to the goods if he buys them in a good faith.Example:*6) Sale by a buyer in possession of goods after their sale: If the buyer obtains the possession of the goods which he has bought or agreed to buy from the seller and the seller still has some lien or other rights over the goods. If the buyer resells the same goods to a new person. In such cases, the second buyer gets a valid title free.Example:

7) Sale by a finder of goods:

8) Sale by a person in possession under a voidable contract: The buyer gets a valid title only if the following conditions are satisfied:-

- a. A person must obtain the possession of the goods by coercion, undue influence, fraud or misrepresentation.
- b. The seller must have obtained the possession of the goods under a voidable contract and not under a void contract.
- c. The contract must not have been rescinded (i.e., put to an end) at the time of sale
- d. The buyer must act in a good faith.

Example:

9) Sale Under the Provision of Other Acts :

- a. Sale by an Official Receiver or Liquidator of the Company will give a valid title to the purchaser.
- b. Sale by a pawnee/pledgee under default of pawnor in repayment of debt will give valid title to the purchaser.

❖ In case of hire-purchase, hirer cannot pass a good title even to a bonafide buyer.

• DELIVERY OF GOODS

A. Meaning:

- ❖ “Delivery” means a voluntary transfer of possession from one person to another”.
- ❖ Delivery of goods may be actual, symbolic or constructive

B. Rules:

1. Buyer in position to access the goods:

The delivery of the goods may be made in any of the modes, but it must have the effect of putting the goods in the possession of the buyer or his agent.

2. Demand for delivery of goods:

It is seller's duty to put the goods in deliverable state and inform the buyer regarding same. It is buyer's duty to make a demand for the delivery of the goods.

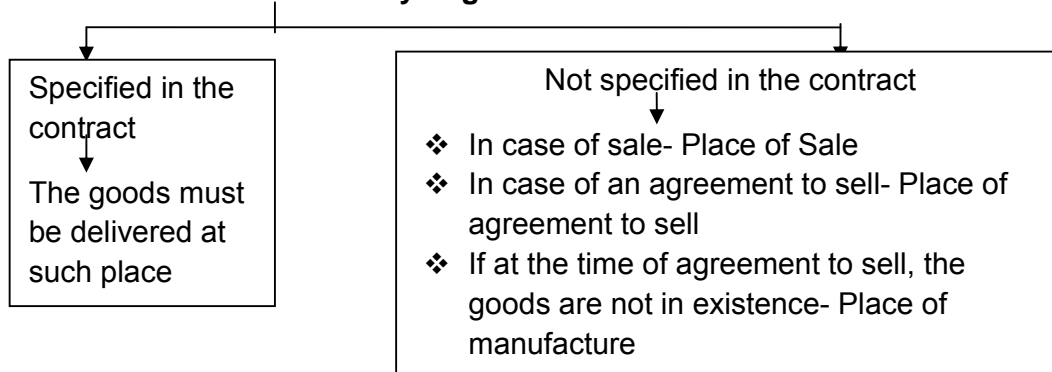

3. Goods in the possession of a third person:

Sometimes, at the time of sale, the goods are in the possession of a third person. In such cases, the effective delivery takes place when such person acknowledges to (i.e., inform) the buyer, that he holds the goods on his (buyer's) behalf.

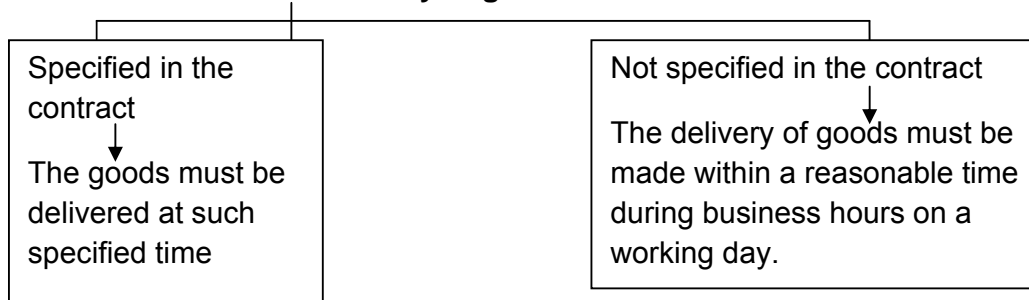

4. Delivery to a carrier or wharfinger:

Where the sold goods are delivered to a carrier/wharfinger for the purpose of transmission to the buyer or safe custody, the delivery of goods to the carrier/wharfinger is treated as a delivery to the buyer

5. Place for the delivery of goods:

6. Time for the delivery of goods:

7. Time for demand or tender of delivery:

The demand of delivery by the buyer must be made within reasonable time during business hours and on a working day.

8. Expenses for the delivery of goods:

The expenses of putting the goods into a deliverable state are borne by the seller. And the expenses of receiving the goods are borne by the buyer. However, the seller and the buyer may also agree otherwise

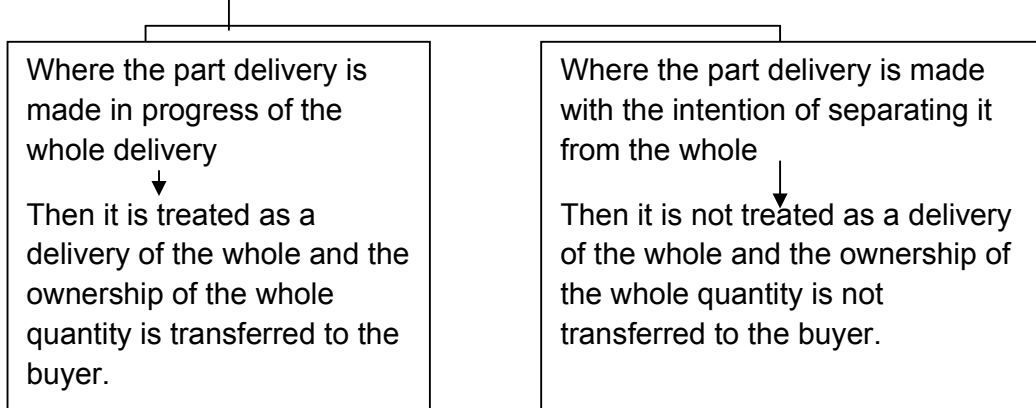

9. Deterioration of goods during transit:

The buyer shall bear the loss of deterioration of goods which is incidental i.e. natural in transit unless otherwise agreed.

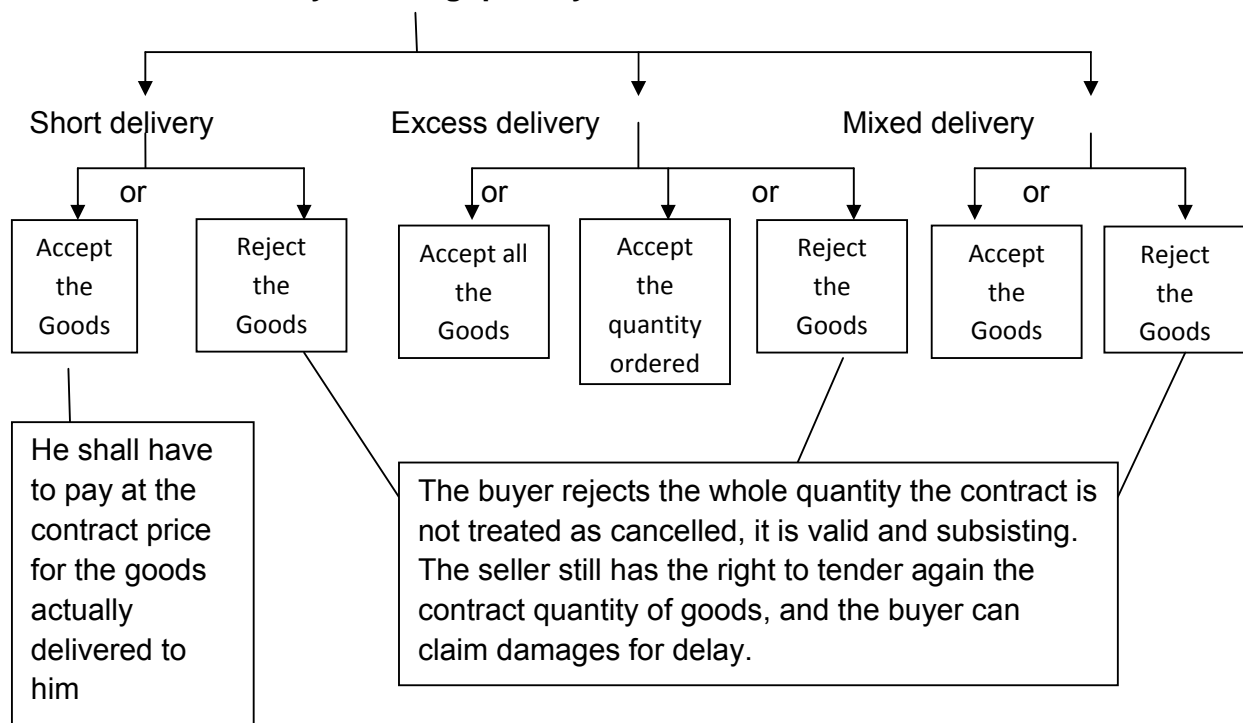

10. Delivery of goods by instalments:

As a rule, the delivery of goods by instalments is not considered as a good delivery and the buyer is not bound to accept the goods delivered to him by instalments, unless otherwise agreed.

11. Part delivery of goods:

12. Delivery of wrong quantity:

• ACCEPTANCE OF DELIVERY OF GOODS

Acceptance is deemed to take place when the buyer-

- (a) Intimates to the seller that he had accepted the goods; or
- (b) Does any act to the goods, which is inconsistent with the ownership of the seller; or
- (c) Retains the goods after the lapse of a reasonable time, without intimating to the seller that he has rejected them.

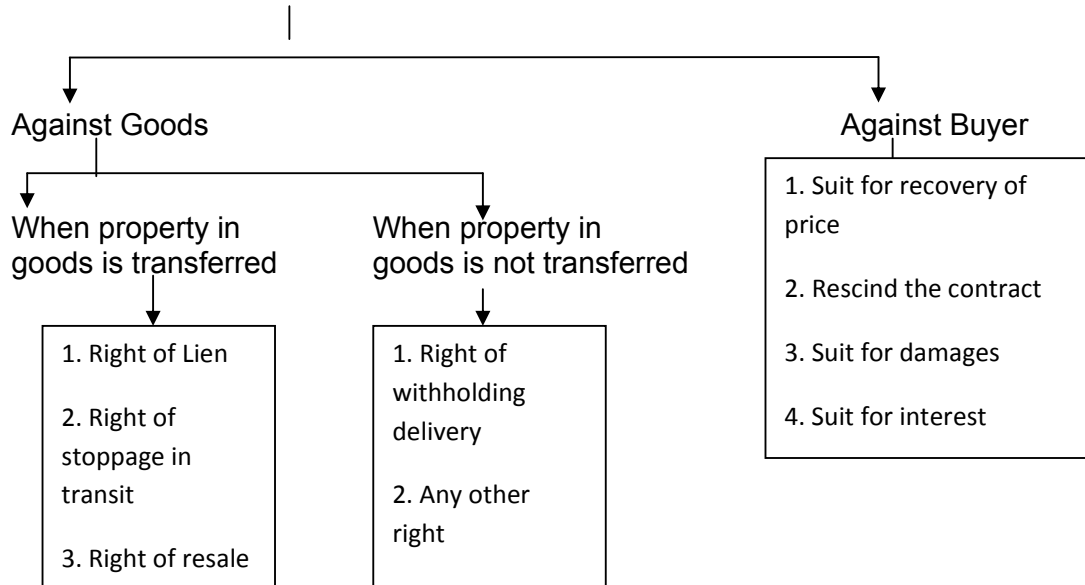

UNIT 4 : UNPAID SELLER

• MEANING OF UNPAID SELLER:

A seller will be called 'unpaid' if the following conditions are fulfilled:

- (1) The whole or part of the price has not been paid or tendered and that the seller has immediate right of action for the price.
- (2) A bill of exchange or other negotiable instrument has been received but the same has been dishonoured.

• RIGHTS OF UNPAID SELLER

(A) Rights against the Goods:

1. Where the ownership of the goods has transferred to the buyer: In this case, the unpaid seller has the following rights:

(a) Right of lien

- ❖ The right of lien is the right to retain possession of the goods.
- ❖ This right can be exercised only when the possession of goods is with the seller.
- ❖ The unpaid seller of goods can retain his possession of goods until payment of the price in following cases:
 - a) Where the goods are not sold on credit.
 - b) Where the goods have been sold on credit, but the term of credit has expired
 - c) Where the buyer becomes insolvent.
- ❖ The unpaid seller can retain the goods only for the payment of the price of the goods: He cannot retain the goods for any other charges, e.g., maintenance, charges for storage of goods during the exercise of lien etc.
- ❖ The right of lien is indivisible in nature.
- ❖ Termination of Lien:
 - a) By delivery of goods to the carrier
 - b) By delivery of goods to the buyer
 - c) By waiver of the lien
 - d) By payment of price by the buyer

❖ Example:

(b) Right of stoppage in transit

- ❖ The right of stoppage in transit is the right to regain possession of the goods.
- ❖ This right can be exercised only when,
 - (i) Seller should have parted with the possession
 - (ii) Possession should be with a carrier, &
 - (iii) Buyer has not acquired the possession.
- ❖ The right of stoppage in transit can be exercised only if the buyer has become insolvent.
- ❖ The unpaid seller can stop the goods in transit only for the payment of the price of the goods.
- ❖ Distinction between Right of Lien and Right of Stoppage in transit

Right of Lien	Right of stoppage in transit
1. The essence of a right of lien is to retain possession	1. The essence of stoppage in transit is to regain possession
2. Seller should be in possession of goods under lien	2. In stoppage in transit, (i) seller should have parted with the possession (ii) possession should be with a carrier, & (iii) buyer has not acquired the possession.
3. Right of lien can be exercised even when the buyer is not insolvent.	3. Right of stoppage in transit can be exercised only when buyer becomes insolvent
4. Right of lien precedes right of stoppage in transit.	4. Right of stoppage in transit begins when the right of lien ends

❖ Example:

(c) Right of Resale

2. Where the ownership of the goods has not been transferred to the buyer:

(a) Right of Withholding Delivery

When the ownership of the goods sold is not transferred to the buyer, if the buyer fails to pay the price, the unpaid seller may refuse to deliver the goods to the buyer. Such right is known as right of withholding the delivery of the goods.

(b) Any other right

Since ownership and possession of goods is with the seller, seller can use, gift, resell the goods, etc.

(B) Rights against the Buyer

1. Suit for recovery of price

Where the buyer takes the ownership as well as possession of goods and the buyer fails to pay the price of the goods, the seller can file a suit against the buyer for recovery of the price.

2. Suit for damages for repudiation of the contract before the due date of delivery of goods :

Where the buyer repudiates (i.e., puts an end to) the contract before the due date of delivery of the goods, the seller has the following options:

- (i) He may not immediately take any action against the buyer, and treat the contract as subsisting and wait till the date of delivery of goods.
- (ii) He may immediately treat the contract as repudiated and bring a legal action against the buyer for the recovery of damages. Thus, the option of bringing the action lies with the seller. He may either wait till the date of delivery of goods arrives, or bring an immediate action for damages.

3. Suit for damages

Where the seller is ready and willing to deliver the goods to the buyer, but the buyer wrongfully neglects or refuses to accept the goods and pay for them, then the seller may bring a legal action against the buyer for the recovery of damages suffered due to non-acceptance of the goods.

4. Suit for interest

The court may award the interest from the date of tender of the goods or from the date when the price is payable. The rate of interest to be awarded is at the discretion of the court.

• EFFECTS OF SUB-SALE OR PLEDGE BY BUYER

- ❖ The right of lien or stoppage in transit is not affected by the buyer selling or pledging the goods unless the seller has assented to it.
- ❖ Exceptions:
 - (a) When the seller has assented to the sale, mortgage or other disposition of the goods made by the buyer.
 - (b) When a document showing title to goods has been transferred to the buyer and the buyer transfers the documents to a person who has bought goods in good faith and for value.
- ❖ Example:

• RIGHTS OF PARTIES IN BREACH OF CONTRACT

• AUCTION SALES

- ❖ An auction sale is a sale at which the auctioneer, as agent for the seller, invites persons present to bid for goods sold.
- ❖ Auctioneer acts in a dual capacity

- ❖ Rules regarding Auction Sales:
 1. Where goods are put up for sale in lots, they are deemed to be sold in lots.
 2. The sale is complete and ownership is transferred when the auctioneer announces its completion by the fall of the hammer or in any other customary manner.
 3. Bidder may retract his bid anytime before auction sale is complete.
 4. The sale may be notified to be subject to a 'reserve price' or 'upset price.' When the sale is notified to be subject to a 'reserve price', the bidding and knocking down of the article to the highest bidder are all subject to the condition that the 'reserve price' should be reached.
 5. If the seller makes use of pretended bidding to raise the price, the sale is voidable at the option of the buyer.
 6. A right to bid may be 'reserved' expressly by or on behalf of the seller and, where such right is expressly so reserved, but not otherwise, the seller or any other person on his behalf, may bid at the auction.
 7. Implied warranties in auction sale: In an auction sale, the auctioneer warrants the following :
 1. that he has an authority to sell;
 2. that he is not aware of any defect in the title of the principal;
 3. that he undertakes to handover the quite possession of the goods as soon as the price is paid to him.
